

Whole New Generation

Staying current with self is a full-time job especially with the amazing things coming ahead. Young people offer hope for the future, reflect and know that there is "A Whole New Generation" chopping it up. ~ Peace and Blessings

Cursive writing? Nah, they typing on screens,
FaceTime over calls, know what I mean?
Still need the whip, so they beg and plead,
But soon enough, A-I gon' take the keys.
Back in my day, we settled it live,
Now a fight go viral before you arrive.
TikTok, Insta, the whole world see it,
Flee the scene quick, like they booked on Expedia.

From peanut butter and government cheese,
Converse kicks and dungarees,
To GrubHub, Prime, Uber Eats,
Sit back, get fat, don't move your feet.
Is it the food? Or we losing control?
Too much salt, too much soul,
Gotta break free, man, time to reflect,
But the algorithm keep you locked in the net.

Everybody screaming, "I'm getting mine,"
Ain't no morals, just dollar signs.
Stand in their way? They quick to fight,
Respect's gone, it ain't black or white.
Final mix, what's your plan?
Gotta move wise, gotta take a stand.
But remember what I told you, bro.
The world keep spinning, so keep your flow,

A-I talk, deepfake schemes,
NFTs and metaverse dreams.
No more cash, just crypto codes,
But real ones know it's the heart that holds.

A vintage, silver-colored microphone with a ribbed grille is the central focus. A small, rectangular piece of paper with handwritten text in cursive is perched on top of the microphone's grille. The background is a soft-focus collage of autumn leaves in various shades of orange, yellow, and red. The microphone is mounted on a black stand, which is partially visible at the bottom.

Old school roots with a new school twist,
Gotta adapt but don't forget this:
Legacy's built on the truth you show,
Not just the likes, not just the glow.

Wuddup my people, It's a whole new generation,
No going back, no hesitation.
Gotta move smart, stay in control,
But don't lose yourself in the digital scroll.
Can't rewind, can't press pause,
They don't follow, they make their own laws.
No more waitin', they take what they see,
Gotta stay grounded or drown in the stream.

It's a whole new generation, whoa-oh
Moving fast, no hesitation, yeah, yeah.
Mindset different, change in the air,
Gotta stay sharp, be wise, beware.
It's a whole new generation, whoa-oh
No rules, just innovation, yeah, yeah.
Watch your step, 'cause the game done changed,
And the past ain't never coming back the same.
